

We build specialized life jackets for twenty years. Our goal is to benefit customers often forgotten. Consequently, we are the only life jackets adapted manufacturer in the world.

The PFD-A model is used by customers with multiple disabilities. This model is specially designed for physiotherapy or hydrotherapy. It provides a great comfort and great stability on water. In the elongated position on the back, it is ideal for stimulation or relaxation and join all parts of the body, as well as the back, for therapeutic massages.

Pfd-a

The Lj-A has an instantly capacity to place the face out of the water as soon as the user stops moving. It is specially conceived for customers able to put themselves alone on the vertical on water. The collar allows to push the limits of stability of traditional jackets. A person without survival reflexes will regain effortlessly a quick safe position.

Lj-a

The Lj-A model may also be suitable for people who adopt the foetus position. An inclined position on the side or back is then often observed. A person who has an under development at the bottom of the body might also get an inclined position on the back. Under these conditions, to obtain the vertical position of the model Lj-A, it would be desirable using weights diving at the waist strap scheduled for threading a unit weight of 1 or 2 lb at each side of the waist. Thereby, the legs will descend underwater and the body will adopt a vertical position. The buoyancy of our model Lj-A is provided to support this weight exceeding while respecting our high safety standards.

A person suffering from multiple handicaps has often the muscles structure of the lower body undeveloped. These people can also adopt binding behaviors for flotation as spasms or foetus position.

These behaviors interfere with the stability of a vest.

For some time, we noticed an interest to maintain on the vertical on water a person with multi disabilities and too often bedridden. Many get our Lj-A model intended however for clients relatively autonomous or able to stand by oneself on the vertical on water.

In order to satisfy the need of verticality in clients with multiple handicaps, LifeJacket-Adapted.com created a new life jacket able to maintain effectively one person on vertical. We call this latest Lj-V.

Lj-V

Its ergonomic configuration provides great comfort in the supported vertical position

The new Lj-V model was designed to maintain the vertical position supported foolproof for customer's multi-handicapped.
